Do you remember Gelsomina singing a sentimental melody with her big, charming eyes? Monica Casadei produces the piece of sweetish Italian sentiments as an homage to Fellini, a master of the film. This is a world of fantastic and marvelous dream, full of poetic inspiration and humor, and affection to arouse the nostalgia. A singer who sings canzone with dramatic motion, a swimming cap decorated with boorish flowers, mottled make-up like circus, and people in splendid swallowtail coats reproduce the figures in the movie. The animated feature with a bold satire on sex received the Prize of the Italian President to the best documentary on Italian Art.
